[Special Chicago Letter.]

"I hear Miss Simpkins is married," said Chollie to Fweddle.

"Miss Simpkins! that frightful-looking girl! Well, she's in luck, she is."

"Why, Fweddle, indeed, you must be crazy, don't you know, Miss Simpkins, why, she's a beautiful young woman."

The difference of opinion was due to the fact that Fweddle remembered Miss Simpkins as she appeared "before taking," while Chollie became acquainted with her "after taking."

Once upon a time Miss Simpkins was a girl whom everybody pined. She had a huge pug nose, a red birthmark blurred by freckles and smallpox, a protruding lip and a pair of ears that flopped like sails before the wind. She passed her 25th birthday, and no suitor, not even the shadow of one, appeared. That was "before taking."

MISS SIMPKINS BEFORE AND AFTER.

"After taking" Miss Simpkins became a belle in society. Her classic Grecian nose, pearly complexion, dainty lips and dimpled cheeks brought her love poems by the bushel. Under her bedroom window the midnight air was now rent by the plaintive melody of a dozen guitars, where previously cats had serenaded in undisputed possession. The fact is that Miss Simpkins had taken a chair in a dermatologist's office.

The dermatologist is primarily a beauty doctor, and his trade lies largely with society people who ask for the removal of the petty troubles that vanity abhors. The little electric needles that mean death to moles and warts and to that terror of terrors, the woman's mustache, together with the knife for removing wrinkles, are his constant companions.

Serious surgical operations, such as cutting a piece of cartilage out of a nose or leg, are not often performed for vanity's sake. If so, the natural organ is abnormally ugly. Many people have had their noses broken, while with others the cartilage may have been destroyed by disease. Men and women of the stage are sometimes forced to undergo an operation for almost trivial defects.

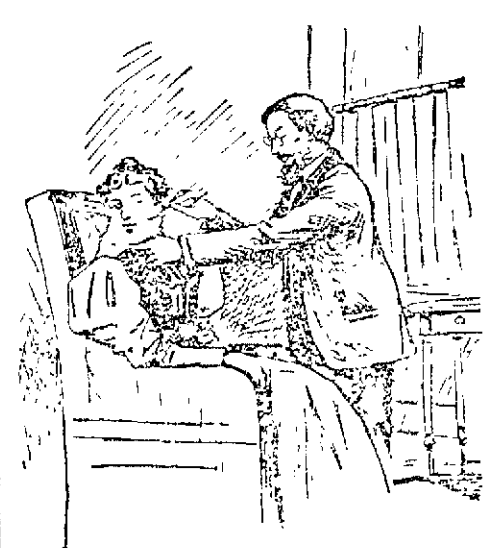

That the dermatologist's services are required for still other purposes is illustrated by a story recently told of a Chicago detective.

The detective was standing with his partner at a busy street corner, when a suspicious-looking character sauntered by.

"I'll be hanged if that ain't 'Honey Dick,'" said the first detective. "Look at that walk of his."

"Honey Dick" was a notorious burglar, badly wanted by the Chicago police.

When the suspect came nearer, the detectives changed their minds. "Honey Dick" had red hair, an Irish pug nose and lips as thick as a negro's, while this man's features were the exact opposite. Experts that they were, the sleuths saw at a glance that his hair could not be dyed nor his nose of plaster of paris. They allowed him to pass unmolested.

CONSTRUCTING A DIMPLE.

A few days later the same man was arrested while attempting to enter a house. It developed that he actually was "Honey Dick." He had been treated by a skilled dermatologist.

Men who can do work of the kind required in cases like that of Miss Simpkins and "Honey Dick" are very rare. There are, of course, hosts of quacks—beauty doctors of every description, but skilled dermatologists are considered specialists of a high order. Their fees are fully as high as those of an eye or ear doctor of great reputation. For simple operations hundreds of dollars are charged, while the reconstruction of one's anatomy is so expensive that only a few wealthy people can afford it.

The reason for this is that dermatology is as yet a comparatively new science. It has not been fully explored, and the public are little aware of its scope.

I was in the office of a dermatologist a few days ago and witnessed several cases.

One was that of a young man whose face had been completely disfigured by a kick from a horse. The patient's nose had caved in and his cheek was badly lacerated.

"We shall cut that nose open and lay the skin and flesh to the side," said the doctor. "Remove all the cartilage not thoroughly sound and replace it with live tissue from an animal. In a short time, the new cartilage grows into place, just as a twig is introduced on a rosebush or a live tooth is grown in a strange jaw. The nose will require attention for some time, for the cartilage may have a tendency to grow inwardly, in which case the opening for breathing must be kept free by repeated drilling."

"Pug noses are easily remedied. The cartilage which is originally bent upward is slightly indented by a cross-cut. This causes it to drop so as to make a straight nose. It is held in a vise until it has imbedded itself firmly in its new position."

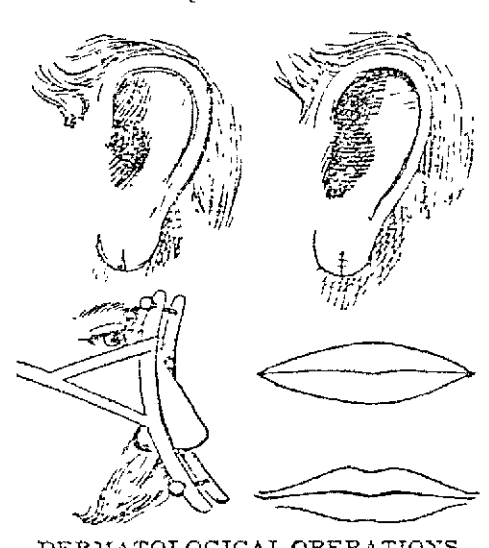

"New and renovated organs may be shaped as the patient orders. Many people bring photographs of themselves as they appeared before an accident, which we are asked to copy. For others, who want merely to be beautified, we have sample casts of noses from which they may pick their choice."

"Operations upon ears are not difficult. You have seen these unsightly outstanding ears? They are set back by cutting away a tiny piece of cartilage behind the ear. Large lobes and lobes lacerated by violent tearing of earrings are easily corrected by cutting away a small wedge of flesh and sewing it up the wound."

"Bow legs are sometimes straightened, but the patient is confined in bed for fully six weeks. A part of the bone is sawed out."

"Thick lips are reduced to normal size by a similar process of cutting away the too generous supply of tissue. By slightly slitting the ends of the lips at their line of contact and sewing them up until the two parts have grown together, the mouth may be reduced to any size desired. The double chin, which gives some people such an air of fierceness, may be entirely cut away."

"We get hundreds of society women with slight disfigurements that annoy them terribly. All the soap and salve in the world will drive few complexion blemishes away. Moles, for instance,

DERMATOLOGICAL OPERATIONS.

are destroyed by the application of an electric needle, which deadens the skin around the excrescence and causes it to drop off. Skin indented by smallpox or otherwise disfigured may be cut away. Small pieces of epidermis from other parts of the body are laid over the wound, and in a short time the patient is covered with a clear, smooth and healthy hide.

"All the searing in the world does not prevent hair from growing anew, for the follicle from which it takes root is not destroyed. The dermatologist dips his needle, charged with electricity, into and below the root. This deadens the follicle so that hair and all are easily and permanently abstracted."

"We have not been successful in planting individual hair, but baldness may be remedied after a fashion by transplanting skin with live hair growing on it."

"A source of much discomfort to society belles is the wrinkle. It is the surest precursor of fading beauty. Wealthy women will spend fortunes to keep it away."

"Well, I take it that an ounce of preventive is worth a pound of cure. No woman of 30 has any business to be wrinkled. Abstain from work and do not get angry; in other words, don't frown, and your wrinkle will stay away five or ten years longer. When once it is there, it may be partly remedied by free applications of oil—odorless sweet oil, perhaps. This supplies the skin with fatty matter, the absence of which is the primary cause of wrinkles. A badly wrinkled forehead may be made as smooth as the fairest maiden's by tightening the skin. The folds are taken in by cutting away a piece of skin under the curls of hair. The skin is sewed together and thereby tightly stretched so as to leave no opportunity for wrinkling. Vertical wrinkles are smoothed out by making an incision between the eyes."

"Last, but not least, a much desired wrinkle can also be made to order—a wrinkle upon which oceans of poetry have been gushed forth. That wrinkle is the dimple. The manufacture of it is not difficult, though it must be executed with great nicety. Our old friend, the electric needle, makes an incision, the breadth of a hair, cutting certain fibrous tissue. The skin caves in a tiny bit, is pressed gently and held in a place by a plaster. In a few days, tear off the bandage and, presto! you have your dimpled maiden."

Wherever the dermatologist's job is completed and Miss Simpkins' stock rises 500 per cent in the matrimonial market.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

The Democratic electors of the State of New York are requested to assemble in session at the Buffalo Convention Hall, on Wednesday, Sept. 16th, 1896, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of electing delegates to the National Convention, and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention.
(Signed) J. W. HINKLEY, Chairman.
August 15, 1896.

There is only one really serious feature of the Maine election. The discomfiture of Sewall will brace up Watson and make him more of a nuisance than he has been.

It is good news that Senator Gorman has consented to take charge of the Democratic campaign in the East. He is an experienced and successful campaigner, and with his steady hand at the helm no mistake will be made.

John Henning, who wants the Republican nomination for Alderman in the Third Ward, and who is being warmly supported by many friends, may not impress some people as an ideal candidate, but he has one advantage that some of the Republican candidates will not have. He was not a party to the crime of forcing the single election law on an unwilling and protesting people.

The iniquitous single election law, which was forced on the people of this city against their wishes, protests and votes, will make necessary the choice of city officials in November. It is an open secret that most of the men responsible for the iniquitous measure want a vindication at the polls, expecting that the national and State tickets will carry them through. They may find, however, that their own party will turn them down in convention for we learn from good authority that a movement is being organized by Republicans to secure a new order of affairs in our city government.

The increased Republican plurality in Maine, secured by an expenditure of money and effort that has no parallel in the political history of that State, where Republicans have always spent money like water, settles none of the uncertainties of this most uncertain campaign. It merely proves what all knew before that the gold sentiment is strong in the East just as the increased Democratic majority in Arkansas proved that the silver sentiment is strong in the West and South. The real battle ground is the middle western States, and Senator Quay, the most experienced politician on the Republican committee, makes no secret of his belief that the campaign there is in a critical condition.

Hill-Ostringer.

Oscar Hill, a valued employee of McMonagle & Rogers in their laboratory, was married, last night, by Rev. F. A. Heath, at the First Baptist parsonage, to Miss Lizzie Ostringer, of Tinsville, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Hill went at once to a pleasant home which Mr. Hill had prepared for his bride on Independence avenue. They were pleasantly surprised on arriving there to find that Mr. Hill's fellow employees had sent him a handsome wedding gift.

Mr. Hill is a most worthy young man with a very large circle of friends, with whom the Arches goes in wishing him and his bride a long and happy life.

A FAST SPECIAL ON THE ERIE.

The Independent Bryan and Sewall Club of New York, leaving for Buffalo, spent a most enjoyable day on the Erie.

A special made up on an engine and a Pullman car went west over the Erie ahead of the Timmamy train to-day, but what it was no one seemed to know. It made the run from Turners to this city, a distance of twenty miles, in twenty-seven minutes, and passed through this city at a mile a minute rate.

The special carried a delegation from the Independent Bryan and Sewall club of New York on their way to the Buffalo convention.

A suit of A. V. Book, against Oscar Constable, to recover on a note was tried before Justice Powellson today. The defendant set up a defense that he was an "infant" in law when the note was made.

The attorney for the plaintiff produced records of the defendant's age, which it was claimed showed he was not an "infant" in law when the note was made. Justice Powellson reserved decision.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION

Leaders and Delegates Gathering at Buffalo—Candidates for the Governorship—Maj. Hinkley Says Hill Will Not Attend.

By United Press.
BUFFALO, Sept. 15.—The usual convention crowd has not yet arrived, but this forenoon's trains brought in many Democratic leaders and delegates. A few business blocks and the hotel fronts are decorated with flags.

Thomas F. Grady will probably be temporary chairman of the convention. Elliott Danforth will probably succeed Maj. Hinkley as Chairman of the State Committee.

James W. Ridgeway is not pushing his candidacy for the governorship very vigorously, but is awaiting the conveniences with the leaders, this afternoon.

John Boyd Thatcher is still talked of, but the silver men are not enthusiastic over him. The convention is likely to last two days.

Maj. Hinkley arrived this morning. He says that under circumstances will Senator Hill attend. Hill was almost deluged with telegrams from all parts of the State urging him to go to Buffalo, but his mind was resolutely made up.

Frank Campbell, of Bath, is slated to succeed Sheehan as member of the National Committee. The talk, this afternoon, favors Thatcher's nomination for Governor.

THE MAINE ELECTION.

Republican Plurality Will be About 49,000—Only 1,000 Votes for Clifford—Gold Democrat—The Legislature Same as Last Year.

By United Press.
AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 14.—Returns of 19 of 20 cities and 251 towns give Powers (Rep.), 63,286; Frank (Dem.), 25,142. This is three-quarters the total vote of the State. The same cities and towns in 1892 gave Powers 52,296; Johnson, 41,341.

If this percentage of Republican gain holds in the towns to hear from the Republican total vote will be 82,500. The Democratic 33,500 making the Republican plurality 49,000.

The vote for the Populist candidate and Clifford, the Gold Democrat, are included in about 5,200 scattering. Clifford receiving less than 1,000.

Reed's plurality is 10,880, a gain of 2,000; Dingy's is about the same; Milliken's is about 10,000; Boutelle has an increased plurality.

The latest returns indicate that the House will stand 146 Republicans to five Democrats and the Senate is entirely Republican, making the Legislature exactly the same as last year.

Went to New York for Bicycles but Didn't Get Them.

Four Middletowners went down on the early trains, yesterday morning, to buy $100 bicycles for $13 at the opening of Siegel, Cooper & Co.'s big store. There were so many others on the same errand that when the store was opened the bicycle department was packed with a howling mob. A few wheels were sold at $13 and then, it being impossible to do anything with the jostling, fighting, clamorous crowd, the police had to be called to disperse it.

"Feeded" Jordan in the Toils.

John Jordan, better known as "Feeded" Jordan, was arrested by Officer Sharpe, this afternoon, charged with breaking open an Erie car Aug. 31 and stealing codfish and other articles.

Frank Kelley was sent down to await the action of the Grand Jury on the same charge some time ago, but Jordan could not be found until to-day. He was held in $500 bail for a hearing to-morrow.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years it was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and, therefore, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. THAT BOY OF YOURS

Will have to start to school soon. He'll need new clothes. Vacations are particularly demoralizing on clothing. His mind is clear and fresh now, ready for his studies. Clothe him in a neat, stylish suit, and let him work untrammelled. Poor clothing muddles the brain. It has a way of persistently pushing itself into view. It can't be forgotten. There are immense values here for mothers of school boys. We have made special preparations for the school boy, and will help you all we can.

ACTIVE CAMPAIGN WORK TO BE GIVEN AT ONCE.A Club Organized Last Night With a Large Membership—The Officers of the Organization—President Merrill's Address to Patriotic Citizens—Hearing Speeches by Dr. Winant and Mr. Wisner.A Bryan and Sewall club was organized at the Assembly Rooms, last night. The meeting was called to order by G. Tut-hill, who nominated J. C. R. Taylor Chairman, and he was unanimously elected.Mr. Taylor, on taking the chair, thanked the meeting for the honor conferred and spoke of the value of clubs in campaign work. He said the members had not performed their whole duty when they had assisted in the organization of a club. Each member had a mission to perform.On Mr. Tuthill's motion James Gavin was elected Temporary Secretary.
Dr. Barnes nominated E. S. Merrill for President of the club and he was unanimously elected.On motion of P. H. McShane J. C. R.
Taylor was unanimously elected First Vice President.Mr. Merrill, on taking the chair, said he would not address those present as "Fellow Democrats," for he saw some who were not heretofore Democrats, therefore he would address them as patriotic citizens.He said he regarded it doubly an honor to be president of the club, because he believed democracy this year represented the true Democracy of Jefferson and Jackson.The two parties had for years been fighting together, so that there was little or no difference between them under the old leadership—they were both managed in the interest of the favored classes.
But Democracy has broken from the rule of her false leaders and stands for the true principle of "Government of the people, by the people, for the people." The platform represents the true principles of Democracy and we have nominated upon it one of the best and ablest exponents of Democratic principles the party has ever had.Mr. Merrill discussed the issues of the campaign in a clear and forceful manner and was heartily applauded.On motion of Mr. Tuthill Mr. Gavin was made Permanent Secretary.On motion of Mr. Taylor Dr. F. M.
Barnes was elected Treasurer.

DR. WINANT'S ADDRESS.

Dr. Winant, of Ellenville, was present, and was called out and made an excellent speech. He said that four years ago in this same hall he had with others raised up his voice in a protest against a movement of so-called Democrats, resulting in a snap convention. That protest had grown until it resulted in the nomination of Grover Cleveland.
What has transpired since is a matter of history, and only a few months since it was conceded on all hands that McKinley would be nominated and elected, for like the Napoleon of old he had gathered around him the bankers and holders of gold. He then told how William Pitt conceived the idea of issuing paper money to take the place of the gold that had been cornered by Napoleon and his allies.
Specie payment was suspended for twenty-two years, and though the Bank of England's notes were not payable in gold, they soon rose to a par with gold and the gold corner in France was broken. The gold of the world is again cornered and Napoleon McKinley has been chosen as the representative of those who have cornered the precious metal.
The only way to break this gold combination is to remonetize silver, and that is the mission of the Democratic party this year."If the silver dollar, which is all we have now, is good enough to pay the laborer for his work, it is good enough to pay the English bondholder.""Silver will purchase as much of any commodity today as it ever did with the exception of gold and one other article,—that in which that great friend of the laboring man, Garret A. Hobart, is so deeply interested—coal."He suggested that no better guide for those who must earn their living, is the attitude of the enemies of labor in this campaign. The poor man takes his silver dollar, stamped with the name of the United States, and "In God We Trust," and feels that he is safe. The rich man does not trust in God or the government, but trusts in the help of England.

MR. WISNER'S SPEECH.

Mr. Wisner, of San Francisco, was called out and made an excellent speech. He said he was told this year a Republican and one they call the black kind, but when he learned the truth concerning the financial question he made no delay in getting over on the side of the people.The question in this campaign is whether we are to have an American policy or a policy dictated by the Rothschilds and a few American and English capitalists. He urged that the financial question be studied earnestly as it had been in the west for the past three years.
There 95 per cent. of the people are in favor of free coinage regardless of party.
The result would be the same in the east if the question is studied without prejudice.He said this talk of securing bimetallism by international agreement is one of the rankest takes ever attempted. It is dishonest and unlawful for our country alone to remonetize silver; it will be dishonest to do so by international agreement. There is no thought or intention of attempting to secure an international agreement upon the financial question. The interests of those who oppose bimetalism are to keep the financial conditions just as they are andthey will do it if the people permit it, and if the people permit it they must suffer the consequences.Mr. Wisner commended the formation of the club and suggested that greater opportunities for the study of the issue had not been given the people in the east.The president of the club was empowered to appoint an executive committee of two from each ward.On motion of Mr. Tuthill each ward committee is authorized to name three vice presidents.An opportunity was given those present to sign the roll of the club, and when an adjournment was taken there were 209 names on the roll, a very good starter indeed.
